

New Voice International AG receives second prize for its „Unified Event Communication“ system MobiCall at the Voice+IP Germany Award 2010

The jury of Voice+IP Germany, Germany’s most important congress and trade show for IT, telecommunication and mobile communication, has elected the MobiCall alarm, conference and information system second-best application of the trade show.

The “Unified Event Communication” solution MobiCall is a multi-application platform that fully integrates the customer’s processes. This future-oriented concept allows reducing the number of interfaces to a minimum and therefore considerably reducing investment, operation and maintenance costs. The jury had the chance to convince itself at the trade show of the application’s versatility.

Benjamin Lieber (left), responsible for sales and support in Germany, receives the award certificate

The convergent solutions presented at the trade show comprise not only IT, telecommunications, mobility, IP-DECT, WiFi, mobile telephony/3G but also security aspects such as personal and property protection.

Our motto: “ ...Security under Control through IP”

The Swiss enterprise New Voice, celebrating its twentieth anniversary this year, is present worldwide in following areas as a software developer and systems integrator:

Healthcare institutions and nursing homes, hotel industry, banking and insurance, authorities, educational institutions, police and fire brigade, army etc.

The “Unified Event Communication” platform MobiCall meets all the following customer requirements:

The official award certificate

- Emergency calls, bomb threats, emergency call recording
- Personal security, lone worker surveillance, localisation/tracking
- Evacuation
- Fire, intrusion, IT and technical alarms
- Conferences and voice recording
- Voice recording
- Voicemail, IVR, hotline, wake-up function, minibar application
- Task management
- Crisis management
- Public safety answering points
- Other customised security-related applications

We are happy to have received this award which is even more appreciated given the trade show's significance in Germany! The honour goes to our team of developers who always manage to meet our customers' needs and convert their requests into unique solutions.

This award motivates the entire New Voice team to continue to introduce new, high-quality solutions into the market in 2011, our anniversary year.

Peter R. Huber, Director Sales and Marketing